

I am very concerned about the trend toward media conglomeration. This is a dangerous trend which, in my estimation, is not good for a free market democracy. For a healthy, productive, democratic society, greater diversity in media ownership is better than less diversity, which is where we've been heading in recent years as you know. I implore you to limit media conglomeration.